Work-Based Training (Industry Link) Booklet

Your Guide to Work Placements for Nursing, Early Childhood Education and Care (ECEC), Community Services and Hospitality at RGIT Australia

Edition 02 - 2018

About RGIT Australia

Welcome to Oakhill Education Group Australia Pty Ltd trading as Royal Gurkhas Institute of Technology (RGIT) Australia, one of Australia's leading vocational education and training (VET) providers.

RGIT Australia offers courses in Hospitality, Business and Management, Nursing, Childcare and Community Services, English and Information Technology (IT).

At RGIT Australia, our students are our priority, and we take pride in their achievements. Our fundamental objective is to provide students with an environment that enables them to reach their full potential.

Our trainers and teachers provide quality training and relevant industry insight. We equip students with the necessary skills for them to embark on their career. Graduates will have the opportunity to enter either the relevant workforce arena or pursue further studies at university to achieve their career goals.

Our dedicated and professional staff support students' academic needs fully, and are committed to looking after their personal welfare and wellbeing. Students can speak with any of our staff members for assistance. Our purpose-built training facilities and our dedicated training and administration teams speak for themselves.

RGIT Australia's three campuses in Melbourne and Hobart house modern, state-of-the-art facilities. RGIT Australia's Main Campus and Victoria House Campus are located in the vibrant retail hub of Elizabeth Street in the heart of Melbourne's Central Business District (CBD), while Hobart Campus is located in the heart of Hobart's CBD, Tasmania.

Welcome to RGIT Australia, where an authentic Australian educational experience awaits.

RGIT Australia's Industry Partnerships

RGIT Australia is proud to have memorandums of understanding (MoU) with a wide range of quality establishments across Australia to ensure that our students gain the hands-on, practical experience they require in order to fulfil the requirements of their nationally recognised qualifications.

RGIT Australia students are recognised in the community as leading professionals thanks to partnerships with the establishments outlined in this booklet. RGIT Australia's collaboration with its industry partners helps students gain their qualification based on the principles, guidelines and standards set by the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF). RGIT Australia thanks its wonderful partners in helping us allow our students to successfully complete their course, granting them a brighter future.

Patience Community Services Inc

Patience Community Services (PCS) was established in 2015 as a response to the overwhelming degree of disadvantage its founders witnessed on the streets of Melbourne on a daily basis.

After spending months interacting with the community, it became clear that each person experiencing a form of disadvantage on the streets of Melbourne had their own unique story and vulnerabilities that had led them down their current path. Factors such as lack of access to skills training, isolation stemming from cultural and language differences, and disempowerment related to ethnicity and gender all contributed to the levels of homelessness, joblessness, addiction, and crime by limiting an individual's life opportunity.

PCS was formed out of a desire to ensure that every person in the community has the opportunities to access the skills and support needed to reach their full potential and achieve their goals.

The Clayton Hotel

There is a new Clayton hotel bringing inner city food and entertainment culture to the 'burbs.

After 20 months, The Clayton Hotel is finally opened for business to hungry diners and those wanting to kick back in the sports bar after a hard day's work.

Owner operator Frank Golotta said the transformation from the L'Unico Hotel had been a labour of love to realise a dream he and his late father Antonio Golotta had shared.

Mr Golotta originally bought the Clayton Rd restaurant in the early 1990s, applied for a gaming licence in 1997 and said "organically it grew into a hotel".

But the duo sold it in 2000 and in 2008 when it came back on the market, Mr Golotta snapped it up to make their vision of turning it into a vibrant hotel a reality — and now includes a bistro, sports bar, and a function room.

"He would be very proud. it would have exceeded his expectations and a lot of this was for him," Mr Golotta said.

"We exceeded the budget spend, we didn't want to cut corners and do the job properly."

Mr Golotta said he hoped Clayton residents would be happy to call it their new local.

Mamak

Three good friends, Alan, Clement and Julian wanted to open a restaurant.

Living in Sydney, they missed eating freshly made Roti Canai, sipping on frothy Teh Tarik and snacking on smoky Satay skewers. It was the food they loved from their youthful days in Kuala Lumpur.

They decided to put their corporate careers on hold, pack their bags, and travel to Malaysia.

Marae Izakaya

Marae means 'unique' or 'rare' and Izakaya is a Japanese gastro-pub. Together, Marae Izakaya is a fine dining restaurant with a unique menu full of beautiful and mouth-watering surprises.

From the signature dish- a selection of nine flavours presented in a hand-crafted timber tray- to a grilled salmon smoked in natural wood paper, to hojicha gelato served in a timber sake cup and homemade soy sauce presented in individual syringes, each dish ignites the senses.

The interior design by Melbourne-based Kestie Lane Studio recalls home, with zones for casual seating, a sushi train, more formal dining and a bar with a sake master, as well as larger tables for special occasions.

Meanwhile, the kitchen is open, with chefs performing food theatre. A wall of hand-made fish-scale tiles references the food, with other beautiful finishes including brass, natural wood, marble and porcelain tile, while green cracked tiles reference the qualities of a traditional Japanese teapot.

A unique experience, Marae Izakaya is a place to connect with food, fun and friends.
